I am writing to express my strong interest in the Corporate Treasury - Bank Relationship Management Analyst/Associate position at Goldman Sachs. With 2.5 years of experience at Morgan Stanley's Prime Brokerage division and a Master's degree in Investment & Risk Finance (Distinction), I am eager to return to institutional finance in a role that leverages my quantitative skills and understanding of financial resource management.

At Morgan Stanley in Glasgow, I developed a thorough understanding of trade lifecycle operations, including settlement, reconciliation, and corporate actions processing. Working within Prime Brokerage exposed me to the mechanics of funding, counterparty relationships, and liquidity considerations that directly underpin corporate treasury functions. I built advanced proficiency in Excel/VBA, Bloomberg, and Refinitiv Eikon, and consistently collaborated across teams to resolve complex discrepancies - strengthening the analytical rigour and cross-functional communication this role demands.

My postgraduate studies in Investment & Risk Finance deepened my knowledge of asset-liability management, capital markets, and quantitative risk frameworks - all central to Treasury's mandate of optimising the firm's financial resources and managing interest expense. A brief period in advertising account management has further sharpened my stakeholder relationship skills, directly applicable to managing banking counterparty relationships and engaging with regulators.

I am genuinely excited about the opportunity to contribute to Goldman Sachs' Treasury team and would welcome the chance to discuss how my background aligns with your needs. I would require Skilled Worker visa sponsorship and am happy to provide further details on this. Thank you for your consideration.
