I am writing to express my strong interest in the Sales Operations Analyst position. With 2.5 years of experience in Prime Brokerage Operations at Morgan Stanley and a Master's degree in Investment & Risk Finance (Distinction), I bring a solid foundation in data-driven operational analysis that translates directly to sales operations within financial services.

At Morgan Stanley, I developed expertise in trade settlement, reconciliation, and post-trade processing-work that required meticulous attention to data accuracy, process optimisation, and cross-functional collaboration. I regularly analysed discrepancies across large datasets, streamlined workflows, and partnered with front-office teams to resolve issues efficiently. These experiences honed my ability to identify operational bottlenecks and deliver actionable insights-core competencies for a Sales Operations Analyst supporting revenue teams.

My advanced Excel and VBA skills allow me to build automated reporting tools and dashboards, while my experience with Bloomberg, CTM, and Refinitiv Eikon demonstrates my comfort navigating complex financial systems. Currently working as an Advertising Account Manager, I have further strengthened my stakeholder management, pipeline tracking, and commercial awareness-skills that complement the analytical rigour I developed in finance. I am now eager to return to the financial services sector where my technical and operational expertise can deliver the greatest impact.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background aligns with your team's needs. I should note that I would require Skilled Worker visa sponsorship for this role. I am confident that my combination of operational finance experience and analytical capability would make me a strong contributor from day one.

I look forward to the opportunity to connect.
