

Hi Martin,

I saw the FX & Derivatives Trade Support Analyst role you're recruiting for and would like to discuss it further. I have over two years of trade support experience at Morgan Stanley's Prime Brokerage, managing settlement and lifecycle events for derivatives and equity products across global markets.

My background includes resolving complex settlement failures, building Python automation tools for exception monitoring, and collaborating with trading desks under tight deadlines. I'm now looking to apply these skills in a smaller, focused trading team where I can have broader impact.

Would you have time for a quick call to discuss the role and the team? Happy to send my CV across.
